EASTHAM'S RICH HERITAGE

NATURE'S lavish hand with its beauty in Eastham is apparent in no other roadside spot quite so much as it is at Salt Pond. Looking eastward from Route 6 Salt Pond narrows into its inlet, then into Nauset Bay with its scenic and storied marshes at the back of the beach dunes. And in the Atlantic beyond, the surf is often clearly visible from this inland panoramic vantage point.

Because of this breathtakingly beautiful view one of the hills beside Salt Pond has been selected by the National Park Service as the possible site for the main visitor information center and entrance to the proposed Cape Cod National Seashore—the one spot where visitors would first glimpse and begin to feel the majestic proportions of Eastham's sea and landscapes—where he would first step into this nationally recognized area of superb natural beauty.

Whether or not the proposed Cape Cod National Seashore becomes a reality, Eastham will always be the center of the richest endowment of natural coastal splendor. In an effort to keep such beauty for all time, grateful Eastham residents are planning to have its future growth patterned into this unique asset, much as an architect plans a new residence to utilize natural features of terrain for the most attractive final result. Future business and residential structures along Eastham's highways and byways will be planned and built, it is expected, to help preserve the charm and beauty for which Eastham is rightfully becoming more and more famous. This beauty is a rich heritage of which Eastham is proud and one it hopes always to treasure and guard.

One of Eastham's favorite historical buildings is this ancient windmill. Built sometime before 1700 in Plymouth and fastened together with wooden pegs, this stout-timbered mill, the oldest workable on Cape Cod, still can grind corn. Now plainly visible from the highway, it is located almost opposite Town Hall in a park cleared of other buildings by a recent town improvement project. The windmill is open to visitors from 10 to 12 and 1 to 5 on weekdays and 1 to 5 on Sundays with Harold Cole, Town Miller, there to explain its history and the milling process of its great millstones.

SEVEN PILGRIMS PLAN EASTHAM

IT was in April 1644, exactly three hundred and fifteen years ago that seven Pilgrims gathered together to plan the town which is now Eastham. They were Governor Thomas Prence, John Doane, Nicholas Snow, Josias Cook, Richard Higgins, John Smalley and Edward Bangs. These seven men and their families, comprising forty-nine persons were from the Plymouth Colony.

Their decision to settle here was the result of a survey made by the Plymouth Pilgrims as to the advisability of moving the entire Plymouth Colony to this location in view of the level and quite fertile farmlands. These were bordered by forests which offered protection for the rich top soil. It was concluded that there was insufficient area for the entire Plymouth Colony so that only seven families moved here to settle.

Located in this area at the time were the Nauset Indians, the most important of the Cape Cod tribes, led by Chief Sachem Aspinet. Their cornfields spread over the fertile Nauset Plains and the whole section was referred to by the Pilgrims as "The Kingdom of Nauset."

Two years later, in 1646, Nauset was incorporated and on June 7, 1651, the name was changed to Eastham. At this time Eastham included the areas covered by the present towns of Wellfleet, Orleans, Brewster and most of Chatham and Harwich.

Famous Nauset Light at North Eastham. From this spot a dependable beacon has guided mariners since 1839. This automatically operated light is the former Chatham north tower moved to Eastham in 1923. The former keeper's house is now a vacation residence.

RECREATION AND SPORTS

BATHING

BATHING and "beaching" are two of the main reasons why many vacationists come to Eastham.

The Atlantic Ocean beach extends for miles and the surf here is unexcelled. Known as Nauset or the Great Beach, its broad sands invite you to relax in leisurely strolls or, between dips, just sit and enjoy the sun and music of the breakers.

While Nauset Beach is ideal for all bathers at low tide, parents of younger children may prefer to use the warmer and generally shallower bathing available on the Bay shores at high tide or in the clear, fresh water ponds.

Attention Bathers! While on the Beach DO

- 1—Call for help when you think you need it.

- 2—Report to Life Guard for First Aid Treatment.
- 3—Ask Life Guard for any information about tides, runouts, etc.
- 4—Call Orleans 117 for emergency on beach or in water.
- 5—Help us keep the beach safe and clean.

DON'T

- 1—Call for help unless you need it. That is no joking matter.
- 2—Go swimming right after eating or directly after any vigorous exercise.
- 3—Stay in sun over half hour on first exposure.
- 4—Take dogs on beach without leash.

FISHING

Fishing is one of the sports most popular with hundreds of our summer visitors. During the summer, the Striped Bass, King of salt water game fish in Cape Cod waters, is the chief source of fishing sport. Because of its unusual geographical assets Eastham's Striper fishing is hard to beat. Surf casting all along the tides at Nauset Beach attracts the experienced and the novice to the exhilarating thrill of trying for the "big ones." And charter sport fishing boats, many skippered by Eastham men, will take you from Rock Harbor in quest of Stripers offshore in the Bay. Prize tournaments in nearby towns add to the excitement of the catch.

Bluefish entice the angler too and are caught in both surf and bay in season. Flounder, tautog and a number of other good eating bottom fish make most any fishing trip from Eastham's shores something to recall happily.

Eastham's Town Cove is an excellent spot for flounder and plaice fish and trolling for Striped Bass here offers additional thrills. There are several boat liveries on the Cove shore so fishing can be fun for all the family.

From nearby Provincetown several sport fishing charter boats make runs for the Tuna which begin moving into Cape Cod waters in June. Generally they abound here until November, ranging in weight from about one hundred to a thousand pounds.

The fresh water ponds of Eastham well stocked with fish, offer the angler much added sport with rod and reel. Bass, pickerel, white and yellow perch and horned pout can be taken from these waters.

SHELLFISHING

The shellfish (clams, oysters, quahogs, and others) are not so plentiful now as in years gone by. But the Town of Eastham does plant seed quahogs in Salt Pond and here on a Sunday a pail full dug at low tide will provide an interesting activity and delicious eating. (See regulations for taking shellfish.)

MANY MORE PLEASURES

Boating, square dancing, ball games, band concerts, church suppers, auctions and fairs, food sales and other activities add to the enjoyment of visitors of all ages.

In the tidal wash of the sands this huge rock at Nauset Light Beach often is entirely covered, even at low tide. Here, on January 1, 1955, it was exposed to almost its full depth, more than the height of a man. At present this rock again is almost entirely buried by the sands.

VISIT THE EASTHAM PUBLIC LIBRARY

Again our Eastham Public Library is happy to greet our vacationing visitors. This year, in addition to new books, we have several interesting scrap books relative to Cape Cod which were compiled and donated by Mr. Yngve Rongner, who served for approximately ten years at the Coast Guard Station in Eastham. Vacationing "borrowers" deposit $1.00 and receive 50 cents refund when all books are returned. The Library is located on Samoset Road and hours are 1-5 P.M. and 7-9 P.M. on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

HEATED

Jawbones of a Right whale serve as a gateway at the rear of the Penniman Homestead on Fort Hill, with the house silhouetted against a late winter afternoon sky. Captain Edward Penniman began his seafaring career at the age of 11 and except for his son, Eugene, was Eastham's only deep sea whaling skipper. The homestead contains an excellent collection of whaling mementoes from many summers in the South Atlantic and the Bering Sea.

EASTHAM IS IDEAL FOR BIRD WATCHING

The best place to see shorebirds is at the mouth of Nauset Inlet. One should try to be there from two hours before high tide to two hours after high tide. Yellowlegs, black-bellied plovers, dowitchers, semi-palmated plovers and sandpipers, and red-backed sandpipers are in large numbers. One can usually see the turnstone, knot, willet, Hudsonian curlew, and black tern; and sometimes the white-rumped sandpiper, marbled godwit, golden plover, black skimmer, and royal tern.

Nesting here are least, common, roseate, and arctic terns, the piping plover, prairie horned lark, and sharp-tailed sparrow. The black crowned night heron and marsh hawk are common. Some seasons the yellow-crowned night heron, American egret, snowy egret, little blue heron, and Sabine's gull are seen.

The pine warbler and hermit thrush are to be found in pine woodlands, the prairie warbler on scrubby hillsides. The whip-poor-will can be heard at night. The purple finch and sometimes the wood thrush are fine singers about homes; the bobwhite calls; and the oriole is so abundant as to be a notable feature of Cape Cod.
